➤ Online Marketing Strategies

Overview

The Internet has emerged as a platform to facilitate global commerce and communication. Its exponential growth has transformed the value chain of virtually every industry, and millions of commercial businesses are now doing business online. This course will introduce you to the range of marketing uses of the Internet.

You will learn how to:

- use basic e-marketing tools relevant to the internet marketing context;
- apply marketing strategies such as segmentation, targeting, positioning, and differentiation to an online context;
- analyse the online consumer exchange process and its outcomes;
- evaluate product, pricing, distribution and communication marketing functions in a firm's internet marketing strategy;
- evaluate the role of social media in the marketing context;
- use digital analytics to evaluate and optimise the effectiveness of digital marketing strategies.

You will explore how marketing online differs from a traditional marketing environment, and identify and discuss web-based marketing opportunities such as using Facebook, Twitter and Google in today's business world.

The digital landscape is fast-paced and continually changing, yet is an equally challenging and exciting environment in which to work. This course is relevant to anyone working in marketing, communications, public relations, social media and advertising.

This course is part of the CurtinX MicroMasters Credential in Marketing in a Digital World that is specifically designed to teach the critical skills needed to be successful in this exciting field. In order to

1. 3.1 - Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and sustainability in transacting the Curriculum.

Curriculum means the Institutional and Educative programme, Curriculum also called as syllabus. It is the educative programme. It is followed by Teacher to teach and followed by student to perceive knowledge

This Institute is affiliated college to the University of Mumbai. Being the affiliated college, HEI has insignificant role in curriculum designing and development.

This college operationalize the curriculum within the overall frame work provided as per own way. The curriculum enrichment can be the carried out by cross cutting issues to add while curriculum delivery.

The crosscutting issues require for holistic development of Students. It is the main purpose of curriculum. HEI made a provision for the session to deal with cross cutting issues related to the Professional Ethics, Human Values, Gender and Environment-Sustainability concern.

The HEI carried out the cross cutting issues related to professional ethics and Human Values for first term of F.Y. B.Com, S.Y. B.Com as well as T.Y. B.Com. While crosscutting issues related to Gender awareness, Gender Equity and Environment sustainability was carried out in second term at class B.Com – I, B.Com – II and B.Com – III in academic year 2021-22.

The Institute to make and efforts to find out resourceful You-Tube videos the concern cross cutting issue. These videos were sort out by IQAC and finalize to screen to the students.

Cross cutting issues:-

You tube videos of concern cross cutting issues were send to concern class teacher.

The concern class teacher is working as The mentor for that particular class, the concern class teacher then did send YouTube video to screen and observed by the respective class students.

It has been noted that maximum students observed the Youtube video as a part of curriculum.
