Experimental learning

2.3.1 - Student criteria methods such as experimental learning, participative, learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences using ICT tools.

Learning means knowledge that one get from studying. There is directly proportional relation between learning and knowledge gaining. Better learning means better the knowledge gaining.

Learning is focus to learn and means it should be student centric learning.

Student centric learning is very important for enhancing learning experiences. It can be done by using ICT tools more practically.

Student centric learning methods may includes- collaborative learning, cooperative learning, project based learning, inquiry based learning, flipped classroom and blended learning.

Student centric learning methods may called as experimental learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies. This HEI is always keen an employing these three practices as student centric learning.

1. Experimental learning methods:-

To learn by experiment is always remain in mind then only listening or viewing. Therefore, experimental learning is highly appreciable student centric method for enhancing learning experience using ICT tools.

- Seminars
- Powerpoint presentation
- Research (hypothesis) building based on curriculum
- Research work is carry out based on hypothesis
- Research paper writing i.e. pen down the experimental learning.
- Presentation of Research paper means presentation at experimental outcome in conferences.
- Preparation of proceedings of experimental learning outcome.
- Preparation for publication of experimental learning outcome in form of research papers. (publication in International doble peer team reviewed online Journal with impact factor more than '6' and having ISSN Index number.)
- Experiments to do on computers to learn more practical approach to commerce.

2. Participative learning methods:-

- Regular Lectures (Online/Offline) – it is the basic method of participative learning. This method of teaching learning is associated since human civilization. The experience personality (called as Guru) provide knowledge (Gayan) to students in natural jungle school (Aashram). Does, regular lectures are traditional method of teaching and learning. It is participative learning of teachers and students.

- ICT enabled lectures – the online/offline lectures are engaged by using projectors, screen, monitor, PCs, internet etc. It is participative learning being learners and teachers are involved in the process.
- Daily attendance of students- HEI ensures presence of students regularly for lectures i.e HEI insures presence of learner in participative learning process.
- Defaulters list- Irregular/absent learners were noted as defaulters. It is corrective major for effectiveness of participative learning.
- Slow learners- participative learning based on participation of each learners in learning. HEI put extra efforts for slow learners to involve slow learner and also for improvement in them.
- Remedial Lectures- practicing creative learning believes in participation of each participants such as slow learners average learners and advanced learners. Remedial lectures for slow learners means efforts for participation of each student in process of learning.
- Advance learners efforts- in participative learning more efforts, more focus is given to advanced learners to get more knowledge/learning
- Library session- it is knowledge research platform where teacher get knowledge and learners update the knowledge by teachers, by themselves.

3. Problem Solving methodologies –

HEI always put efforts for students centric methods for enhancing learning experiences using ICT tools.

The problem solving methodologies in learning are-

- Program based learning – HEI provides project based learning on curriculum to each student. In the project, students should have to find the solution for problems. It helps them to learn the solution at problem through knowledge.

- Internal Examination – Learning - knowledge gain process and its effectiveness can be measured by examination. Learning process goes nearby perfection through internal examination.
- Term End Examination – In student centric learning process term end examination, university examination matters more. Learning especially problem solving methodologies are attain the best by this process.
- Evaluation – Assessment – Evaluation of learners shows the attainment of knowledge by student. It is student centric method which makes learners to focus on learning. It also helps to teacher also to understand the quality and quantity of education advanced to the students.
